ARIZONA (Grand Canyon State)

Arizona became the 48th state of the USA in 1912. Situated in the southwestern region, it is the sixth largest state in the country. The huge Grand Canyon which is 446 km (277 miles) long, was formed by the Colorado River, which also supplies the state with about 40% of its water. It is the countries top copper producing state.

Arizona's capital and largest city is Phoenix.
